Deep River Police Service

The growing number of overdoses and deaths caused by opioids (powerful pain-relieving drugs, including fentanyl) is a national public health crisis. The Good Samaritan Drug Overdose Act is part of the Government's comprehensive approach to addressing the crisis. It will help encourage Canadians to save a life during an overdose situation. The Good Samaritan Drug Overdose Act provides some legal protection for individuals who seek emergency help during an overdose. The hope is that the Act will help to reduce fear of police attending overdose events and encourage people to help save a life.

- The Act can protect you from:
- Charges for possession of a controlled substance (i.e., drugs) under section 4(1) of the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act
 - Breach of conditions regarding simple possession of controlled substances (i.e., drugs) in:
 - o pre-trial release
 - o probation orders
 - o conditional sentences o parole

The Good Samaritan Drug Overdose Act applies to anyone seeking emergency support during an overdose, including the person experiencing an overdose. The Act protects the person who seeks help, whether they stay or leave from the overdose scene before help arrives. The Act also protects anyone else who is at the scene when help arrives.

Drug overdoses could happen with others around. Staying at the scene is important to help save the life of the person experiencing an overdose.
